Assessment and certification

Assessment takes place continuously throughout the course. If you are successful, CPRR certification is valid for four years and includes continuous access to the e-modules during that time.

1-day course with lectures, workshops and role play

Lectures

- Introduction and background
- Outcomes
- What did you learn?
- Where do you go from here?

Workshops

- Recognising child abuse and neglect and patterns of injury
- How do you feel?
- Working together

Role Play

- Doctor/Carer consultations

Recognise signs and symptoms of the possible range of abuse and or neglect in children of all ages

Respond competently and confidently, knowing what knowledge and skills are needed to recognise child abuse

Know how to make a referral to the relevant agency or professional group and to find out the outcome of a referral

Understand the importance of follow-up to the health and developmental outcome for the child

This Child Protection: Recognition and Response course has been developed for:

- Doctors in training (ST1-ST3), core trainees in paediatrics, emergency medicine and in general practice.
- Specialty trainees may attend dependent on the availability of spaces.
- Paediatric specialty dentists who are ST3 grade and above, may attend courses with appropriate specialty dentistry instructors (above dates include dentistry faculty).
- Candidates should also have had some practical safeguarding experience within the NHS

Information for dentistry candidates

The course has been adapted with support from the British Society for Paediatric Dentistry (BSPD). Dentistry candidates will also receive a copy of the DoH handbook 'Child Protection and the Dental Team: an introduction to safeguarding children in dental practice'.
